CHOOSING A WIFE.

May experienced no difficulty in placing his suit in desirable progress; and when it appeared to him that he had submitted to all reasonable delay, he "proposed," and was—rejected.

The lady entertained, and perhaps justifiably, ideas not less exalted than his own relative to the party whom she should select as her partner for life, and it had occurred to her that May by no means coincided with those ideas.

Such a consummation of all his hopes, of all his perseverance, had not been expected, and it inflicted a fearful blow upon his pride. He endeavored to reason himself into the belief that he had been grossly ill-used; but he could not conceal from himself that a freedom of selection was not his right alone. The result of his reflections was, that if he hoped to obtain a wife at all, he must in future abandon one or more of the qualifications which he had regarded as so absolutely necessary. He determined on abandoning accomplishments. These could be acquired in after life, when youth and beauty could not; and to create good temper where it had not originally existed.

Having come to this determination, he had to traverse much of his old course again, but with the disadvantage of new faces and new acquaintances. While he had been loitering on his way, now rejecting this beauty, now that, time had travelled onwards and those he once knew as "disengaged," either had become the partners of less fastidious persons, or now regarded him with different eyes. A manly elegance of person had in him given place to extraordinary corpulence, and suavity of demeanor to somewhat of morbidity of irritability. The good things of this life had enlarged his bulk, self-esteem had given a disagreeable turn to his conversation, and mortification and disappointments in the progress of his matrimonial plans had rendered his temper uneven. He was therefore no equal competitor with younger and more buoyant spirited persons in the new field on which he was entering, and it was not to be wondered at that he was vanquished in many set encounters. After very characteristic perseverance, it became again evident to him that he must lower his standard for a wife another peg.

A love of the beautiful had rather predominated in May's mind, and he resolved that, if he encountered good temper, he would be content. This would of course sometimes include youth; but it was a great modification of his original conceptions.—Alas, however, for May's good fortune!—Beauty had so many admirers, that he seldom succeeded in securing attention to the offerings he presented at her shrine; while good temper playfully hinted that the gentleman who had for so many years shown so much fastidiousness with regard to others, could not himself prove a desirable acquisition.

Well, thought May—willing to make one more effort ere he resigned himself to despair—beauty is but transitory after all, and good temper a lottery—I will be content with youth. It is so delightful to watch the expanding of the young mind, and to mould the character of one's wife to the perfection of one's standard. My wife shall certainly be young. But alas for the vanity of our expectations! May had forgotten that he was now old, and that it is not every one's good fortune to meet with a young woman who would "rather be an old man's darling than a young man's slave." He proposed to youth, and he was rejected.

From this moment he abandoned what appeared to him a hopeless task, and passed the remainder of his days "an old bachelor." Matthews, in the interim, had entered upon his search after wealth—unsatisfacry and humiliating as it is, under most circumstances, but particularly so when made to influence considerations respecting marriage. It was necessary for him to veil his interested motives; and for a time he succeeded in doing so. As, however, his attentions were ever in the direction in which wealth was to be found, they were soon imputed to the right cause. This was unfortunate, as it subjected him to many rebuffs. Mothers would bid their daughters be cautious of encouraging advances on the part of Mr. Matthews; and guardians would delicately hint that his views in certain quarters were presumptuous. Our hero was, however, clothed in a "triple brass," and was not thus to be deterred. It was remarkable to observe, how, in despite of all the defences which surrounded his objects of pursuit, with what ingenuity and intrepidity he would surmount them all, and procure an intimation of his "ardent and devoted suit" to be conveyed to its destination. Every similar act recorded in ancient or modern times is, upon comparison, cast immeasurably into the distance. Well, unlike his friend, May, he was ultimately successful. Despite all the precautions which had been taken to prevent his approach, and in the teeth of all the dangers which beset him, Matthews succeeded in obtaining the affections of a young lady of fortune, and married her.

[CONCLUDED TO-MORROW.]

TERRITORIAL LIMITS.—This country has a frontier line of more than 10,000 miles.—We have a line of sea-coast of nearly 4,000 miles, and a lake coast of 1200 miles. One of our rivers is twice the size in length of the Danube, the largest river in Europe.—The Ohio is six hundred miles longer than the Rhine, and the Hudson has a navigation of one hundred and twenty miles longer than the Thames. Virginia is one third larger than England. Ohio contains 8000 square miles more than Scotland; from Maine to Ohio is farther than from London to Constantinople, and so we might go on and fill pages, enumerating distances, rivers, lakes, capes and bays, with comparative estimates of size, power and population.

GENERAL TAYLOR IN HIS TENT.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, writing from the Batos de Santiago, says:—

"On the 26th, a friend of mine visited General Taylor, in the camp at Point Isabel where he had established his depot for stores of the army. On landing, the scene presented was quite a wild one, and reminded one of the accounts we have received of an Arab Encampment. There were three or four hundred dragons in the camp, with their horses picketed about; besides an immense number of wagons, mules and oxen. On stepping ashore, an officer conducted my friend to the General's tent.—He was introduced to a very plain shabbily dressed old gentleman, of rather small stature, about sixty years of age; and who looked by his hasty appearance, as if he had been camping out all his life.

"This was commander-in-chief of the army of occupation. He has been 38 years in service on the frontiers of our country. One of his officers remarked that 'old as he is, he bears the fatigues and privations of the campaign better than any one under him.' He was affable, dignified, and in excellent spirits. His tent was no larger and no better than those of the other officers, and his table was his camp chest, in which he carried his cooking utensils, &c. His plates were tin pans, and his cups (no saucers of course) tin pannikins. A small supply of brown sugar was kept in a tin canister, and not a piece of crockery was to be seen. A party of six was thus entertained in homely style, and they all seemed to enjoy it abundantly."

AWFUL DEATH.—A young and powerful man died in the jail at Pittsburg, last week, praying for fresh air! The Court at last gave the order but not till he was dead! Shocking.

MONDAY, MAY 25, 1846.

DRAFTING.—We notice by the Providence papers of Saturday that Gov. DIMAN, of this State, has received an order from the War Department, for this State's quota of troops ordered by Congress, to carry on the Mexican war; one battalion of five companies, 389 men; are to be drawn from Rhode Island, to await the order of the Department, and ready to be mustered into service. Each company to number 77 persons, including officers, musicians and privates. When the requisite number is obtained, the Governor is to notify the Secretary of War of the fact, and an officer from the U. S. Army will be sent to take charge of them. Gov. Diman visited Providence last Friday, for the purpose of deciding upon the necessary arrangements to obtain the number of troops required; none will be ordered to Mexico, at present, from any State south of Maryland. All able-bodied citizens, between the ages of 16 and 69 are liable to be drafted; and if the necessary amount of volunteers cannot be obtained, of course the drafting system will be resorted to. So our citizens will have an opportunity, to learn something of a soldier's life. We wonder how many would go, if they were drafted and ordered to Mexico? A very small boat would accommodate all that would go, we imagine.

A terrible hurricane swept over a portion of Mississippi on the 7th inst., laying waste the town of Grenada, and suddenly killing a large number of human beings. A letter writer for a Louisville paper says, that the fury of the storm was unprecedented. A school house of a Mrs. Plummer, was blown down, and that lady and several children killed. The male academy was also blown down, killing several of the children, and wounding Mr. Sample the teacher. The writer states that he has not learned full particulars of the persons killed. He mentions the wife and two children of a Mr. Robertson, that were killed by the blowing down of his house, and one or two of Mr. Saker's children, and two of Mr. Haines, as all he could name positively, in addition to those whose deaths are previously enumerated. The Baptist brick church was blown down with all the houses north of it—the tornado missing the business part of the town, but sweeping with death and devastation the private residences of the place.—The whole town was clothed in mourning, and the deepest distress and confusion was occasioned by this heart-rending occurrence. Full particulars of the injuries and losses could not be ascertained for several days.

The writer of the letter adds that at the same time, they had in his neighborhood the heaviest rain he ever saw fall, which did great damage to the crops, raised the creeks, and overflowed the flat lands of the vicinity.

THE NEW YORK ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE for June, is decidedly a rich affair. It contains four splendid steel engravings, besides several on wood. The letter press work is of a high literary order, and the Magazine, as a whole, is one of the most valuable and entertaining in the country.

GUNS.—Twenty pieces of artillery, capable of throwing balls weighing fifty-six pounds, were shipped from Pittsburgh, a few days ago, for the seat of war.

MR. EDDY'S ASSEMBLIES.—We had the pleasure of attending one of these interesting entertainments, last Friday evening, at Masonic Hall. For some weeks past, Mr. Eddy has had several dancing schools at the Hall, for both sexes, and his scholars being now sufficiently advanced in the polite art, he unites the schools, and others are admitted by tickets, all forming a very agreeable and social party. The Hall was well filled with ladies and gentlemen, and the dancing continued till a late hour. We did not remain to witness the finale, but we were there long enough to observe that all the ladies were arrayed in exquisite taste, and their faces beamed with smiles of loveliness. Their graceful and sylph-like forms glided around the Hall in a most enchanting manner, and their melting eyes floated sweetly about, fascinating the gallant youths around them. The gentlemen danced well, and were all attention to the fair ones of the evening. We have never seen a more orderly and well conducted soiree, and everything passed off agreeably, without a single unpleasant incident to mar the joys of the occasion.

Mr. Eddy is an accomplished artist in his profession, and his pupils all give strong and ample evidence, that he not only can dance well himself, but that he has the happy faculty of imparting it to others.—The waltzing was graceful and neat.

Just before the intermission, Mr. Eddy amused his friends and pupils, by dancing "The Fisher's Hornpipe," in his own imitable manner. He performed it in a style that convinced every one that he is a natural artist. His performance was loudly applauded.

At the close of the present term, which will be in the course of three or four weeks, a new school will be opened immediately, of which due notice will be given, and all those who desire to become acquainted with this polite and fashionable art, will then have an excellent opportunity. The school of "interesting infants," is progressing, we are told, as rapidly as could be expected, for those of such a tender age; several of them were pointed out to us in the Hall.

We understand that Gov. DIMAN has directed the Adjutant General of this State, to issue his orders to the several towns, for the reception of volunteers for the war.—His orders will probably be published in a Providence paper to-day.

The National Cadets, Col. Pitman, of Providence, have tendered their services to the Governor, to go to Texas, and been accepted.

The splendid steamer Oregon will resume her trips to-morrow, as good as new.

FACTORY GIRLS.—Four score Lowell Girls have gone to the Washington Fair, where they will take part in exhibiting goods of their own manufacture.

THE CROPS.—The Norristown (Pa.) Free Press says: "Vegetation" probably never advanced more rapidly than it has done within the last two or three weeks in this section of country. The crops of grass, especially, promise to be unusually fine. The wheat, in some neighborhoods, is suffering considerably from the ravages of the fly. Where undisturbed by this insect, the appearance was, perhaps, never finer."

National debt of France amounts to 2,000,000,000 francs, or about £323,000,000 sterling.

CAYLON.—At the last accounts the cholera was raging frequently on this island. Many were dying; and great consternation prevailed among the inhabitants. The natives were about to hold a great festival in honor of the Goddess of Pestilence, at which a grand offering of fowls, and rams was to be presented to the Goddess, to propitiate her favor. The ceremonies were to be closed by the sending forth of a scapegoat, bearing on his person the dreadful pestilence. By this means, they expected to rid themselves of the terrible scourge. £300 had already been collected to defray the expenses of this great sacrifice.

A prize of fifty guineas, ($250) which was offered in Great Britain for the best essay upon a branch of Agricultural Chemistry, has been awarded to John T. Norton, Jr., of Farmington, Conn., a son of John T. Norton, Esq.

DEATH.—There are nine distilleries in operation in Boston, employing 47 men, and a capital of $100,000. They manufacture annually about 2,872,623 gallons of spirit, valued at $826,000.

A vein of fine marble, alternating in color from the brightest to the darkest red, has been recently discovered in Hawkins Co., Tenn. The vein is said to be forty miles in length.

TEMPERANCE AT BROOKLYN.—The people of Brooklyn, N. Y., on Wednesday, were called upon to vote upon this question, and the anti-license party, it is said succeeded by a majority of 2000 or 3000.

CHEAP POSTAGE TO CONTINUE.—The Chairman of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads in the Senate declared, in his place on Tuesday, that no change was contemplated in the Rates of Postage.—This announcement will be received with general satisfaction in every part of the Country.

A shark was lately caught at Nahant, the stomach of which contained, among other things, a pair of boots, two horse-shoes, and a fourth of July oration, besides three large bustles. So says an exchange.

An inhabitant of Corin, who recently returned from Spitzbergen, after an absence of 28 years, found his wife in good health, but the widow of three husbands.

A VETERAN PREACHER.—The Rev. Benjamin Harvey, a Baptist minister, who served under Washington in the Colonial Army, and is now 111 years of age, is at N. York, and is to deliver a course of lectures at the Tabernacle this week.

Gen. Scott's order to go south, has been countermanded, says a Washington letter writer.

The Hon. Myron Lawrence, Hon. Johnson Gardner, Hon. William Baylies, commissioners on the part of Massachusetts to run the boundary line and to erect monuments thereon, between this state and Rhode Island, have met the commissioners on the part of Rhode Island, and are now engaged in the discharge of their duties. The board will be occupied about two weeks.—Boston Post.

The U. S. Gazette publishes the following table of distances to be traversed by the earliest aid that can reach Point Isabel:—

	Miles.

AMERICAN COMMERCE.—It is estimated that the amount of American property in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and in the South Seas, is worth probably $100,000,000. There are 657 whalers at sea, which may be valued at $20,000,000.

PROVISION OF FIRE ARMS.—We learn from Watervliet that the government has 200,000 muskets at that place, now ready for shipment at a moment's notice; and that there are also 500,000 in the various depots, independent of the State armories, which contain from 300,000 to 400,000 more.

There need not, therefore, be much fear of a scarcity of guns. If more are wanted, A. Spies of this city, bought yesterday at Watervliet 500,000 muskets.—Even'g Post.

A "QUIP" FOR TOBACCO CHURCHES.—Dr. Woodward, Superintendent of the Worcester Insane Hospital, thus speaks of tobacco:—

"If asked my medical opinion, which is safest, four glasses of wine, or four quids of tobacco daily, I should say unhesitatingly, the wine. Of the two evils, this would, in my opinion, be the least. Tobacco is the strongest and most dangerous narcotic—the habit of its use is, the strongest and most difficult to overcome, and the influence felt from it, most baneful and destructive to health."

Three parts of ashes, three parts of clay and one part of sand, is said to make cement as hard as marble, and impervious to water.

A valuable invention—a Sovereign remedy—a sure protection against Mosquitoes and other poisonous insects.

RADWAY'S CHINESE MEDICATED SOAP.
may truly be said to be one of the most valuable, as well as the most scientific and useful invention for the health, comfort, and convenience of the human family, that mankind has ever been blessed with. As an alleviator and preventor of pain, or irritation occasioned by the bites or stings of Mosquitoes, or other poisonous insects, this invaluable Soap is indeed a treasure. By applying it to the parts affected, it immediately abstracts the poison, allays the irritation, and protects the sufferer from all further annoyance from these troublesome insects.

TO THE LADIES.
We would particularly recommend this inestimable Soap to their notice. It is equally adapted to all toilet purposes, and is far superior, as a purifier of the skin, to all Powders, under whatever name they may be called, as it is for medicinal applications; for while it softens and beautifies the complexion, it removes every vestige of Tan, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, and all other blemishes of the skin, and, in fact, all cutaneous eruptions. No lady's toilet is complete without this valuable Soap; and no other article of the Toilet is required, when you have this in your possession. None are so beautiful, but what this Soap will improve. RE-OPENING OF THE UNITED STATES CLOTHING STORE.

A still greater revolution in the sale of READY MADE CLOTHING. New Store and new Goods, at the old stand, where the public have been favored with so many good bargains. 91 Thames street,
one door north of Messrs. W. B. & E. J. SWAN'S.

THE PROPRIETOR of this Establishment has the pleasure of informing the people of Newport and its vicinity, that he has leased the new and commodious store, 91 Thames Street, for the purpose of carrying on the Ready Made Clothing Business, where the public may be assured that they will always find on hand the largest assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the place, as well as the lowest prices. If I can but induce the people to call upon me, I will give them the most positive proof of the truth of this assertion, as I am determined to secure for the United States Clothing Store a tremendous run of custom, and aware as I am, that competition is so severe, that the only mode of success is to offer my Goods at a small advance on Cost. Will the people call upon me? I will give them the most positive and pleasing evidence of what I say; still more, I will not urge them with undue persuasion to purchase what they do not want. The custom of forcing goods upon people has become so prevalent that they are sorely perplexed to know where they can go and be allowed the use of their own judgment in selection of Goods. Once more I be-seach of you to call and examine my stock of Clothing and Furnishing Goods, before purchasing elsewhere, which consists of a large and good assortment of FROCK and DRESS COATS, of a variety of styles and colors; also, a large quantity of Tweed FROCK and SACK COATS; 2 or 3 dozen

HOUSE TO LET.

"Strange that a heap of thousand strings Should keep in tune so long."
THE subscriber has several chambers to let in his house which is beautifully located directly opposite Trinity Church Burying Ground;
he will rent the rooms with furniture, or without,
as may best suit the tenant. There is, probably, no more desirable spot in Newport, for those whose souls are not entirely steeped in sin, and wrapped up in the dimmy veil of this world's delusion; the occupant may sit at the window, and view the last home of man in all its mysterious and solemn grandeur,—and seriously reflect upon the great uncertainty of all things human. Here he can commune with himself, and meditate, in full view of the grave yard, on the final consummation of all things,
and anticipate that universal crash, when the earth shall be burned up, and the heavens be rolled together as a scroll. We must reflect upon these things here, and be prepared with our passport when we meet the last Tyler, or we shall receive the fatal mark of the black brush; why, land!
what is a few day's sojourn in this miserable world,
